Kristin Vogt Moore

Presents:

Expressive Movement in a Kodály-Inspired Classroom

Workshop Fees

$15 for Members

$30 for Non-Members

Free for Students

In this session, Vogt Moore will share numerous expressive movement games for grades K-5. Even for inexperienced movers, these games have proven to be very successful as well as for more experienced movers. In addition, Vogt Moore will share purposeful ways to incorporate expressive movement into core repertoire used in a Kodaly inspired classroom.

Kristin Vogt Moore is the music specialist at Brinker Elementary School in Plano ISD, where she teaches Kindergarten through 5th grade students. Kristin received her Bachelor of Music in Music Theory in 2000, and Master's degrees in Music Theory and Music Education from Southern Methodist University in 2003. She earned her Kodály certification from the Plano ISD/UNT program and her Orff Schulwerk certification from SMU. This is her 15th year to teach elementary music. She regularly presents professional development sessions for school districts in Texas, OAKE National Conference in 2010 as well as other state conferences. Kristin teaches Pedagogy I and Folk Materials II at the SMU Kodály Certification Program. Kristin also serves as President on the executive board for Kodály Educators of Texas.
